COLLEGE BECOMES UNIVERSITY

When a church college is absorbed by a secular institution, this is accepted as a natural trend of events. If, however, a church college refuses to be so absorbed and decides to operate as an independent university, this is contrary to the accepted pattern and becomes a news item of tremendous interest.

Most of the great universities started as church colleges. The pressure of expansion and the burden of finances forced the church in many cases to surrender control of the schools to secular interests. This pattern has been particularly evident in the United States and Canada. However, there have always been some church colleges which have withstood such pressures and have grown and developed as independent universities. In the United States their number is legion. Canada, too, has some well-established independent church-supported institutions of higher education: Acadia University (Baptist), Assumption University (Roman Catholic), Bishops University (Anglican), Mt. Allison University (United Church), Ottawa University (Roman Catholic). To this association will now be added Waterloo Lutheran University. Waterloo Lutheran University had its beginnings in a theological seminary established in Waterloo, October 30, 1911. This Seminary will celebrate its Golden Anniversary next year. Facilities for pre-theological education were established in 1914. For 15 years courses leading to Senior Matriculation were given in Waterloo College School. In 1923 the School offered a one year's Arts course beyond Senior Matriculation. Then in 1924 Waterloo College of Arts became the third educational unit, offering a four year's Arts course. In 1929 the preparatory courses were dropped.

Since 1925 Waterloo College has been affiliated with the University of Western Ontario in London and was granted the right in 1930 to offer courses leading to the Honors B.A. degree. This long and friendly association with a provincially-supported University helped develop an institution with high standards and highly-qualified faculty. Concerning this relationship, at the last meeting of the Senate of the University the President and Vice-Chancellor, Dr. G. E. Hall, referred to the fact that the affiliation of Waterloo College with the University of Western Ontario would terminate on June 30th, the end of the academic year. He expressed to Dean Schaus as the representative of Waterloo College "the pleasure which officers of the University have had in their work with the College during the thirty-five years of affiliation", and on behalf of the Senate he extended good wishes for the future success of Waterloo College.

In 1954 Dr. Hall recommended to Dr. Lloyd H. Schaus that the community of Waterloo-Kitchener was ready to have its own university by expanding the College. With this in mind, the College President, J. Gerald Hagey, presented a plan to the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Canada at its 1955 convention in Ottawa to incorporate the Associate Faculties under a non-denominational Board which would develop Science and Engineering courses, and other courses that the College might release.

In the Petition and Agreement drawn up and accepted by all concerned at the time the Waterloo College Associate Faculties was established in June 1956, it was stated: "The Board of Governors of Waterloo College Associate Faculties fully recognizes the reputation and prestige which Waterloo College has acquired as well as the large investment made in the said College by the Lutheran Church and wishes it to be clearly understood that the Board of Waterloo College shall at all times in the future have an equal voice with the petitioners in the establishment of policies and programmes that effect the over-all development of higher educational

NOW . . .

THEN . . .

THE FUTURE

In 1952-53, Conrad Hall was remodelled to become a women's residence. In addition, a new dining hall was constructed on the campus. Following its completion, construction of an Arts building was begun, and in 1954, the College administration and faculty moved from the cramped quarters in Willison Hall into the present Arts building.

This move provided not only more room in Willison Hall for the Seminary, but also more residence accommodation as well as increased library facilities. The rapid increase of students on the campus during the decade of the nineteen fifties has again put a strain on all campus facilities.

Recognizing the urgency of the problem, the Board of Governors has taken certain actions. It has established a College Planning and Development Committee consisting of Dr. H. M. Axford, Dr. L. H. Schaus, Reverend J. M. Zimmerman, Mr. G. Lind, Mr. H. Greb, Rev. N. A. Berner, Rev. G. Durst, Dr. H. Overgaard, Dr. R. R. Krueger, Professor J. Clark.

The Board has also set up a Seminary Planning and Development Committee. Its members are: Dr. J. R. Houser, Dr. U. S. Leupold, Rev. J. M. Zimmerman, Dr. A. F. Buehlow, Dr. A. G. Jacobi, Rev. R. C. Teigen, Rev. R. B. Langen.

These two committees are jointly engaged in developing a master plan for the campus, and an architect is now working on it. This plan includes provisions for a library, men's and women's residences, another Arts building, a student union building, a detached chapel, a new Seminary complex, as well as a gymnasium and auditorium.

Furthermore, the Board has established a Residence Committee consisting of Mr. Greg. Lund, Mr. V. Ursaki, Dr. William Klein, Dr. H. M. Axford, Mrs. Harry Greb, Mrs. Chapman, Dr. L. Schaus, and Prof. Fred. Little. The Board has authorized this committee to proceed with its plans for the building of a women's residence to accommodate 100 co-eds. It is anticipated that this residence will be completed by September, 1961. Waterloo College will use part of its Canada Council grant of almost $300,000 to finance some of the construction cost.

NEW BOARD PLANS FOR CHANCELLOR AND SENATE

The Board of Governors of Waterloo Lutheran University at the inaugural meeting on June 23rd named a six-man committee to provide the constitution for a university senate, to select a chancellor, and to set up the necessary structure for granting degrees in arts and theology and honorary degrees.

The committee consists of Dr. L. H. Schaus, dean of Waterloo University College; Dr. U. S. Leupold, dean of Waterloo Lutheran Seminary; Rev. N. A. Berner of Kitchener, Dr. A. F. Buehlow of Pembroke, Dr. Manfred Wirth of Sault Ste. Marie, and Mr. John Reble of Ottawa.

Although Waterloo College has held several convocations in Waterloo through its affiliation with the University of Western Ontario, it will exercise degree-granting powers for the first time in May 1961. Arts degrees will be granted

CONGRATULATIONS FROM U.W.O.

June 21, 1960.

Dean Lloyd Schaus,
Waterloo College,
Waterloo, Ontario.

Dear Dean Schaus:

At the last meeting of the Senate of the University the President and Vice-Chancellor, Dr. G. E. Hall, referred to the fact that the affiliation of Waterloo College with the University of Western Ontario would terminate on June 30th, the end of the current academic year. He expressed to you as the representative of Waterloo College the pleasure which the officers of the University have had in their work with the College during the thirty-five years of affiliation and on behalf of the Senate extended good wishes for your future success.

As the date of the termination of affiliation now draws close I should like both personally and in my capacity as Vice-Chairman of the Senate and Vice-President of the University to repeat what President Hall has already said.

I have been a member of the University Faculty and Administration throughout the entire period of Waterloo College's affiliation. First as a teaching member of the Faculty, later as Associate Dean of Arts and Science and since 1950 Vice-President and Dean of Graduate Studies I have had many and frequent meetings with representatives of Waterloo College. In those meetings we were always conscious of your desire for complete co-operation and of your concern, equal to our own, for the maintenance of high academic standards which would be a credit to the University as a whole and to every College associated with it.

As June 30th approaches we would like to tell you again that we of the University have enjoyed working with you and wish Waterloo College all success in the new phase of its development.

Yours sincerely,
R. A. Allen,
Vice-President.

COLLEGE REGISTRATION DATES

The Registrar, Mr. C. H. Damman, reports that a large number of new applications have been received indicating a good enrolment for 1960-61.

Following is the registration calendar:

September 20, Tuesday—Registration of new students from Kitchener-Waterloo, Waterloo County and Wellington County.

September 21, Wednesday—Registration of new students from other centres.

September 22, Thursday—Registration of second, third and fourth year students, A to M. Orientation lectures for freshmen.

September 23, Friday—Registration of second, third and fourth year students, N to Z.

FIRST COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL SUCCESSFUL

The first university Summer School in the Kitchener-Waterloo area got off to a good start when 90 students registered for the six-week session on July 4th at Waterloo University College.

The enrolment was larger than anticipated and particularly gratifying as Waterloo College launched forth as an independent degree-granting university on July 1st. A neighboring institution which had planned a similar summer session in science was forced to cancel plans due to insufficient registrations.

Included in the Summer curriculum are: General English Literature and Composition, American and Canadian Literature, Dramatic Literature; Advanced French; Beginners' and Intermediate German; American History, Canadian History; Introductory Psychology;

Beginners' and Intermediate Spanish. Psychology has the largest enrolment with 30 students.

The Summer School faculty includes a visiting lecturer in the person of Dr. Edith Hadley of Lemoyne College, Memphis, Tenn. Miss Hadley is giving the course in American and Canadian Literature.

With this encouraging beginning the Summer School will be an annual program at Waterloo College.

To the Alumni, Faculty, Students and Friends of Waterloo College:

For thirty-six years I have been associated in various capacities with Waterloo College, as a student, as an alumnus, member of the Senate of the University of Western Ontario, teacher, registrar and dean. During these years I have seen the College through numerous crises. There was the financial crisis in the thirties when bankruptcy seemed imminent; the trying war years of the forties; the relocation issue in the early fifties. It seems as if the naming of the College after a battle field in Europe were prophetic. Struggle and strife have attended this educational institution from the beginning.

I have also seen this institution come through each crisis triumphantly. The predictions of ruin and disaster never materialized. Rather after each struggle the College took on a new strength and greater prestige reaching a position a few years ago where it was asked to assume the stature of a university.

It is on this knowledge and experience of the past that my faith in the future of the College is grounded. Nor is this confidence made possible by closing one's eyes to the seriousness of the present situation. I know only too well that the decision to remain independent rather than federate at the present time under impossible conditions exposes the College to all "the fiery darts" of those who would see her absorbed or destroyed. Nevertheless, I am confident that Waterloo College will be able to withstand these malicious attacks and continue to make its contribution to Christian higher education. One of the College songs the students always sing with gusto has the lines:

"We're the Waterloos
We shall not be moved
We're like a tree
Standing by the water
We shall not be moved."

That expresses the spirit of our present situation and calls upon all the sons and daughters of Waterloo to support their alma mater as never before.

This confidence in the future of Waterloo College is substantiated by the enrolment prospects for 1960-61. On the basis of new applications and former students returning, our registration should equal that of last year and possibly exceed it. In addition, a well-qualified faculty will be on hand to instruct the students in the courses which have been available at Waterloo College in the past, as well as in new courses.

Financially our position will be much stronger as an independent institution. As an affiliated or federated College, the cost of this association would be between $25,000 and $50,000. This cost will now be eliminated. On the other hand, we still have the same revenues: (1) Students tuition and fees; (2) federal government grants; (3) Church grants; (4) gifts and endowments. The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Canada which has supported Waterloo College for the past fifty years is continuing its support in the same generous manner. For this we are eternally thankful!

Yours sincerely,
Lloyd H. Schaus,
Dean.

WATERLOO COLLEGE ON THRESHHOLD OF NEW ERA

The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Canada at its regular Convention June 6-9, 1960, stood solidly behind Waterloo Lutheran University as an independent Christian Institution of Higher Education. The decision of the University of Waterloo not to federate with Waterloo University College on the basis of the Provincial Legislative Acts of 1959 left no other course but that of independence provided for in the Acts if such federation did not occur.

This means that the Arts College, Waterloo University College, has the power to grant any degrees except those in theology, which will be granted by Waterloo Lutheran University. With 50 years of history behind it and 35 years of intimate association as an affiliate college of the University of Western Ontario, Waterloo University College has developed high standards and a qualified faculty. The four professors hired by the University of Waterloo in its struggle to establish its own Faculty of Arts have been replaced. Replacements have also been made for the other members of the faculty who could not accept the Board of Governors' document on Academic Freedom and Tenure. This document placed the new University on a solid Christian foundation and gave the professor "freedom in the classroom in discussing his own subject."

The College will not deliberately promote the Lutheran Church. It has not been its policy in the past to do so. Only one fourth of the faculty and one-fifth of the student body is Lutheran. The policy is rather that stated in the Calendar: "Waterloo University College aims to educate men and women among Christian influences which tend to develop individual talents and initiative, high ideals, a sense

CLASSICS

Professor A. B. Little has announced that the Greek 1x course will again be an introduction to New Testament Greek. Among the Classical Greek courses will be Greek Tragedy (340), Greek Historians (350) and Greek Philosophy (352).

The Honors Latin program deals with courses of the second and third year: Catullus, Virgil, Horace (230 and 340); Cicero (250 and 350); Ancient History (257) and Roman Comedy (352).

ECONOMICS

The Economics Department is giving all four years of the honors program. A newcomer to the department will be Professor Harold A. Gram of Syracuse. After graduating from Waterloo College Mr. Gram went to Harvard University as a Littauer Fellow and was awarded the M.A. degree in Public Finance. He is currently completing the requirements for the doctorate at Syracuse University. The other members of the department are Dr. H. O. J. Overgaard, Chairman, and Dr. L. R. LaVallee.

SOCIOLOGY

With Professor G. F. Durst spending the Summer at Columbia University, the Sociology program should be particularly interesting next term. Sociology 20 (Introduction, Sociology 30, (Theory) and 38 (Social Development of Canada) will be offered.

ENGLISH

Asked about the offerings of the English Department for the coming year, Miss Roy stated that Professor Clark would give the drama courses for General Arts and Honours students which have been so popular in the past. Professor Clark is considering future offerings of special courses dealing intensively with important dramatic movements usually treated more briefly in survey courses. Dr. Boyd, visiting professor from Grinnell, will lecture in American and Canadian Literature, and her course in creative writing will be available to both General Arts and Honours students. English Honours students will be able to take the course in Old and Middle English from Dr. Boyd who has made a special study of mediaeval literature. Dr. Bruce Honeyford may be known to some of the students already through his connection with the Extension Department in the University of Toronto. Dr. Honeyford has been a member of the English Department of University College in Toronto since 1953. Because his special field is Elizabethan and Jacobean with emphasis on drama, he will give the Honours course on Shakespeare and related dramatists. Dr. Honeyford will also give courses in English for General Arts students. Mr. Nicol who has spent the second term of 1959-60 at Harvard working with Dr. I. A. Richards, the well-known authority on language, will give a course on Communication in writing and speaking.

GEOGRAPHY

May 1961 will see the first Waterloo College graduates in Honors Geography. To this end the fourth year of this honors program is being added and an additional faculty member added. The new professor is Dr. Aubrey Diem whose special fields are Physical and Regional Geography. Dr. Ralph Krueger and Professor Diem will make a distinguished team for this department.

Dr. Krueger is spending the summer in the fruit belts of British Columbia where he is doing research on their geographical relationships for the Geographical Branch of the Canadian Government. Dr. Diem is travelling in Europe this summer, and will attend the annual meetings of the International Geographical Union being held in Stockholm, Sweden.

Most of the Geography courses will be available to General Course students as options in their program.

Honors Geography students from Waterloo will join students from Wayne University, Detroit, and the University of Western Ontario for a field trip in Michigan early in the fall.

GERMAN

Professor Kurt Nabert may be joined in the German Department by Dr. Wilhelm Brauns of Berlin. Professor Brauns is a distinguished philologist with a special interest in tracking down dialects. He should have a field day in Waterloo County.

The advanced courses being offered by the German Department next term include: German Romanticism (290), German Realism (390), German Classicism (480), and several composition courses.

HISTORY

With the appointment of two outstanding scholars to this department, the History offerings for 1960-61 are most attractive.

Professor John W. Montgomery received his A.B. degree from Cornell; B.L.S. and M.A., California; B.D. and S.T.M., Wittenberg; candidate for Ph.D., University of Chicago. Mr. Montgomery is the author of several publications in Mediaeval and Bibliographical History and has had several years of teaching experience. At Waterloo he will lecture in Mediaeval (20), American (44), and Renaissance History (460).

The other new appointment to this department is Professor Loren Calder. After graduating from the University of British Columbia with B.A. and M.A. in History and Slavonic Studies, Mr.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL
READY FOR 1960-61

Miss Christine Pletsch, President of the Students' Council announced recently that plans have been drafted for the coming term of 1960-61.

The Board of Publications is getting ready to produce the Students' Directory, The Cord Weekly and The Keystone (Year Book). Miss Pletsch expects The Keystone for 1959-60 to be ready in August.

The Students' Council has requested the Administration to set aside a period in the timetable to permit the occasional Students Assembly.

Calder enrolled at the University of London School of Slavonic Studies where he majored in Russian History and is a candidate for the doctorate degree. Professor Calder will lecture in Russian (34), Modern European (36), British History (35) and History of International Relations (356).

Waterloo College is one of the few universities in Canada giving a course in the History of Russia.

These advanced courses are: Basic Philosophical Literature (30, 230), Logic and Problems of Knowledge (31, 231), Ancient Philosophy (36, 336), and Early Modern (47, 347).

In the field of Political Science, six courses will be available. They are: Introduction to Government (20), Basic Concepts and Theories (34, 234); United States Government (44, 344), and Comparative Foreign Governments (48, 348). Professors K. Aun and G. F. Lane of the University of Western Ontario will lecture in this department. The chairman will be announced shortly.

RELIGIOUS KNOWLEDGE

A new course is being added to this department. It is living World Religions (R.K. 45). Over the years there has been considerable demand for such an offering. Reverend Dr. M. L. facilities at Waterloo. Recognizing that the Associate Faculties may have the advantage of extra revenues from the Province, municipalities, and other sources not available to Waterloo College, the petitioners agree that this advantage shall not be used to the detriment of Waterloo College or of the position of the Lutheran Church in connection therewith. . . . "It is definitely recognized by the Board of Governors of Waterloo College Associate Faculties . . . that they are not to compete with Waterloo College in any of the courses now given by Waterloo College unless permission is given by the Board of Waterloo College relinquishing such course to the new College . . . It would be in the best interests of the Lutheran Church, Waterloo College, and of the Associate Faculties for the charter to be procured by Waterloo College Associate Faculties which would then change its name to Waterloo University . . . The relationship of Waterloo College to Waterloo University would then be that of a "Federated" college which would still give it an equal voice in the management of all matters of an interlocking nature."

Concerning the Affiliation Agreements which were being drawn up, Mr. Ira Needles, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Associate Faculties stated January 25, 1958:

"We are sincerely determined that the type of university that will be developed here will be a university in the full sense of the word—definitely not an institute of technology. We are determined to do all in our power to assure equal attention being given to all disciplines of higher education for which there is a need in this community. We are aware of the desirability of the Arts Faculty being the core of the academic programme. We are aware of the major contribution that has been made in this community by Waterloo College and its Board's desire to continue the development of the Arts curriculum. We count it a privilege to co-operate with the Board of Waterloo College toward that objective."

And then Mr. Needles emphasized: "According to the Affiliation Agreement, Waterloo College would become the Arts Faculty of the University. Our board has no desire to see that programme, as it was planned from the beginning, changed."

The Legislative Acts passed by the Province of Ontario in April, 1959, established two universities—the University of Waterloo and the Waterloo Lutheran University, each with degree-granting powers. Schedule A attached to the Bills spelled out the terms by which Federation could be achieved, among them the following:

"Upon federation of the College (now called Waterloo University College) with the University, all degree-granting powers possessed by Waterloo Lutheran University, except those in Theology, shall be held in abeyance, so long as such federation remains in force.

"The College shall have the right to appoint the chairmen for all courses taught in the College and these shall be the chairmen for the University, unless otherwise mutually agreed."

"The College shall have the prior right to give instruction in the arts, humanities and social sciences which are part of the University's professional courses, and may make arrangements with other colleges within the University to provide instruction in these fields.

"The College shall have the right to appoint its own teaching staff and administrative officers.

"The University shall not duplicate instruction in arts, humanities and social sciences offered by the federated colleges unless the Boards of Governors of the federated colleges agree to such duplication."

However as the Federation Committee came to grips with the main problems in the proposed Federation, it became apparent that the University no longer believed that the legislative acts just passed by the Province were workable. Whereas it had been understood that the Dean of Arts of the College would become the Dean of Arts of the University, (since all department heads were in the College and the University itself had no Arts personnel), the University announced it was appointing its own Dean of Arts. On November 26, 1959, Mr. Ira Needles, chairman of the Board of Governors of the University, made the announcement that the Federated Colleges must accept "general administrative direction through University-appointed Deans for all University faculties." Evidently pressures from the other faculties and church colleges planning to federate or affiliate forced Mr. Needles to declare further in January, 1960, that "any agreement of federation which would place any one church college in a position of administrative control over other federated or affiliated colleges—or prevent the overall development of a faculty within the university—would be a continuous source of irritation and would not be in the best interests of either the University or its federated and affiliated colleges."

On January 19, 1960, Dr. J. G. Hagey, now president of the University of Waterloo, gave his interpretation of the federation agreements. The University Dean of Arts must have direct access to the heads of the departments. Because of his responsibility for Arts development, the Dean of Arts of the University would be involved in the selection and approval of new faculty members and the conditions under which they would work.

On January 5th, 1960, the Board of Governors of Waterloo College passed a motion to federate with the University on the basis of the legislative acts. To date this motion has not been rescinded. Then on March 29th it urged a modification of the University's demand of administrative control over the faculty by the University Dean of Arts.

In spite of this, and without further opportunity for negotiations, the University Board of Governors on April 6, 1960, informed the College Board that it refused any modification and was "proceeding immediately with the establishment of an Arts curriculum and the engagement of an Arts faculty."

As a last-ditch effort an "Ad Hoc" Committee of the College Board without the knowledge of the College Administration met and agreed to accept the University's demands. Then the University agreed to withhold its Arts Faculty and Curriculum for the year 1960-61. At the next College Board meeting, the action of the "Ad Hoc" Committee was accepted reluctantly by a 4-2 vote with a number of abstentions. (The total of the Board is 14). But the Executive Committee of Synod refused to back up this action; and a specially-called Convention of the Synod of Canada on May 12 reversed the action of the Board. In view of the breakdown of negotiations it voted to pursue a course of independence but with the provision that federation be consummated "if at any time the University of Waterloo presents policies for federation more acceptable to Synod." The vote was 79-44.

The Lutheran Church thus by a clear majority refused to place Waterloo University College's Arts

INSTALLED
NOVEMBER 4th

Dr. Herbert Melvin Axford was installed as the sixth president of Waterloo College at a special investiture held in Kitchener on November 4th, 1959. A native of Winnipeg where he received his elementary and secondary school education, Dr. Axford holds the Bachelor of Commerce degree from the University of Manitoba. After spending three years with the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve, in which he now holds the rank of Lieutenant Commander, Dr. Axford attended the University of Toronto where he received the Master of Commerce degree in 1947. Since then he has taught at the University of Wisconsin and Knox College, Illinois. While at Pacific Lutheran College, Tacoma, Washington, where he was chairman of the Department of Economics and Business Administration, he was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1957. In 1958 he was appointed Secretary of the School of Commerce at the University of Alberta, which post he left to become President of Waterloo College. Dr. Axford is married and has three children.

faculty under the complete administrative control of the University Dean of Arts, though advisory supervision would have been acceptable to the administration, faculty and the Synod. But the decision of the University on April 6 not to negotiate further, its subsequent unwillingness to reopen negotiations and the establishment of its own faculty of Arts released Waterloo Lutheran University to move forward as a University in its own right and to make full use of its opportunities.

As the only four-years Arts College with an Honors Program which the Lutheran Church directs in the whole of Canada, plans are now being made to develop a quality Christian education attracting faculty and students who find the atmosphere of a Christian university the best in which to develop the "whole" man.

GRADUATES
RECEIVE AWARDS

As in past years, several members of the 1960 graduating class at Waterloo College received recognition for their scholarship in the form of national and international awards.

Miss Sandra Mansz won a University of Western Ontario gold medal for the highest standing in Honors French and Latin. Miss Mansz will be teaching this fall at the new Waterloo Collegiate Institute.

Waterloo College was singularly honored when Mr. Robert Hett was awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. This was the first year that a Waterloo student was recommended for this international fellowship. Mr. Hett will pursue graduate studies in History at Cornell University.

The Canada Council recognized a potential Geography scholar in Frederick Dahms when it awarded him a fellowship to take graduate work at the University of Western Ontario. Mr. Dahms has been teaching high school at Erin for several years.

SECOND ROW: Marie Schmidt, Sharleen Cornelius, Bonnie Cottrill, Shirley McKee, Beverley Irwin, Pauline Wegenast, Shelley Finson.
THIRD ROW: Margaret Robertson, Elaine Watson, John Horman, John Tweedie, Ronald Sider, William Meek, Arthur Sheil, Dr. Martin Dolbeer, Director.
FOURTH ROW: Dale Ruby, George Merner, Wayne Gatehouse, Andrew Bald, Fred Haak, Stewart Paterson, David Baker, Keith Crouse.

A year ago the Rev. Dr. Martin L. Dolbeer, Jr. was appointed chaplain of Waterloo University College. He was on campus only a brief time when his versatility became apparent. In October he organized an a cappella choir and within a few weeks they took part in the Installation Service of President Axford.

Rehearsals continued throughout the winter. Several brief concerts were held locally in the Spring. Immediately after the Baccalaureate Service on May 15, the Choir left on an eight-day tour of Southern Ontario. Places included in the itinerary were: Aylmer, Toronto, Welland, Peterborough, Kingston, Williamsburg, Ottawa, Pembroke. The climax for the Tour was participation in the Seminary Graduation Service at Grace Lutheran Church, Eganville. While on tour the Choir sang at high schools and churches. Wherever they went they were well received.

Dr. Dolbeer is looking forward to a good year for the Choir in 1960-61. New recruits will be coming into the choir and more time will be made available for rehearsals. Present plans are to make the choir tour earlier in the year, rather than after the examinations. The student-faculty conference week at the beginning of March may be used for this purpose.

Dean Schaus reported that the same wide range of arts subjects will be offered. New applications are in advance of last year and a minimum registration of 250 freshmen is anticipated.

The Board of Governors set the basic tuition for 1960-61 at $350.00. Incidental fees for library, student activities, publications, etc. will be in addition to the basic fee.

On the Threshold of New Era of responsibility, spiritual value, and devotion to worthy service." The College is interested in developing the "whole man" and not merely preparing its students to become economic factors in a commercialized world. The institution believes that the future peace and hope of the world to overcome its mad race to atomic destruction will be accomplished by those individuals who are able to see man in his true light as the child of God. In the face of modern secularism the Church College reiterates these facts: Man is a creature of God, the world is God's creation, history is in the hand of God, and man is responsible to His Loving Father because of that Love.

Dr. Conrad Bergendoff, president of Augustana College, Rock Island, Illinois, one of the leading Lutheran educationists, points out: "Who's Who in America recently published the results of a survey which indicated that the small private colleges graduate far more than their proportionate share of people who devote their lives to altruistic callings — doctors, teachers, social workers, musicians, as well as non-professional men and women who have been leaders in communities where they live and work."

And the Rev. Dr. Albert P. Stauderman, Associate Editor of The Lutheran (weekly church magazine) has made this statement: "The chief emphasis of the Church College is not on its courses on religion, but on the religion in its courses — it is the spirit of reverence and the developing desire for true service to humanity among its students that imprints the Church College with the mark of Christ."

Waterloo University College believes that this can be done in a small college with a highly-qualified faculty that is dedicated to the task of developing the whole personality of the student. Its emphasis will be primarily on a teaching faculty, although ample time is given for research and publication during the summer period of more than four months. In addition to the teaching schedule however, many professors spend time with students individually to help them with problems, scholastic and otherwise. This type of help is encouraged.

During the past year free tutorial sessions were given certain first-year students having difficulty in Greek and Economics. It was discovered that the main problem was their inability to carry on concentrated study. More emphasis will be placed in the future on developing methods of study and concentration, and on making the most of valuable time.

Waterloo University College has maintained the position that it is not the admissions standards but the graduation standards which count. Many of the larger universities in the United States are now taking this position. Therefore the College has received some students who had grades averaging between 50 and 60 that provincially-supported universities might not accept. However, by the end of the first year they were expected to raise their standards so as to pass the same examinations that were given all students in the University of Western Ontario. This policy will be continued. It may result in a larger number of failures the first year, but it also gives many young people an opportunity to prove themselves which might never be possible otherwise.

On occasion mature individuals who have been working for a number of years are received as Special Adults. Most of them would be unable to fulfill the entrance requirements of provincially-supported Universities. The experiment has proved its worth time and time again. A number of these have developed into highly-qualified professors and leaders in other vocations. Two now serve on the faculty. Mr. Robert Hett of Kitchener, one of these special adult scholars, received a Woodrow Wilson Scholarship this year for his superior work in the field of History and is planning to attend Cornell University for graduate studies.

Plans are now being completed to construct a women's residence for 100 students. Further plans to expand library and class-room facilities will be initiated to care for the increased enrolment expected in the next ten years. This is in line with Prime Minister Leslie Frost's prediction last year to the Gordon Commission that by 1975 there would be 100,000 students attending Ontario universities. There are some 26,000 at the present.

Waterloo Lutheran University stands today on the threshold of a new era. Standing as an equal with the University of Waterloo, with the same size student body, applications and registrations indicate that Waterloo University College can anticipate at least as many freshmen students as it had last year when a record 250 enrolled. The decision of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Canada to pursue an independent course also included an offer to "co-operate with the University of Waterloo in providing the already approved courses for it until such time as the University is able to provide an Arts program and faculty to serve its own needs, and — share facilities and faculties by mutual agreement."

Specializing at first in the Arts, Waterloo University College could offer courses to supplement the Engineering and Science Faculties of the University of Waterloo. Future expansion will be made in areas where the University College can make the greatest contribution to the educational needs of the Province and the Christian Church. Pre-theological students from many Protestant Churches receive their under-graduate work at Waterloo College. The Presbyterian, Mennonite, and United Churches as well as other denominations have found that the courses and the atmosphere provide excellent preparation for students entering the ministry and life-time work in the Church.

PURPLE AND GOLD REVUE

There can be only one Purple and Gold Show. This annual students' revue of variety entertainment is keenly anticipated by people of the Kitchener-Waterloo area.

A talented Kitchener housewife and her equally talented husband are working on a script for a Purple and Gold production. They are prepared to help in directing the show.

A group of students interested in the Theatre would like to produce a play sometime during 1960-61. If the Purple and Gold Show is presented before Christmas, there will be room for a play early in 1961.

PROVINCIAL APPROVAL

In addition to granting university status to Waterloo University College, the Province of Ontario has further recognized our academic status in a two-fold way:

Firstly, a letter has been received from the Deputy Minister of Education giving to our curricula the full approval of the Ontario Department of Education. This approval is a consequence of our long association with the University of Western Ontario as an affiliated college, and of our intention to follow the Western program.

Secondly, a distinctive honour has been paid to our College through the appointment of our Dean, Dr. Lloyd H. Schaus, to the Deans Committee of the Minister of Education for the Province of Ontario. This appointment is also an indication of the high regard in which our institution is held among our sister universities of the Province, for it was on the strength of their nomination that the appointment was made.

ALUMNI PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO ASSOC.

A special meeting of the Waterloo College Alumni Association was held in the College Music Room on Monday, June 20, to fill vacancies on the Executive. Some COLLEGE OFFERS 4 YR.

BUSINESS AD. COURSE

In keeping with its policy to offer a complete liberal arts programme, Waterloo College will give the four years of the Honors Business Administration course. The Third Year will be offered in 1960-61, and the Fourth Year will be added in 1961-62.

In line with the pattern already established by Western, the Harvard case system will continue to be used at Waterloo College. The courses in Third Year will include:

Bus. 351 - Marketing
Bus. 353 - Business Finance
Bus. 354 - Production Mgmt.
Bus. 357 - Control
Bus. 358 - Admin. Practices

Students should note that admission to the Third Year requires an overall average of 60% of the courses of the first two years.

Special arrangements have been confirmed by Dean F.W.P. Jones at Western that students who graduate from the 4 year honors Business Administration course at Waterloo College may enter the M.B.A. course at the Univ. of Western Ontario and be granted the M.B.A. degree in one year.

50 Alumni members were present. The officers elected are as follows:

President: Henry Gossen, Preston
Vice-President: Ayrton Kipp, Preston
Secretary: Mrs. Olive Bolton, Kitchener
Representative on Board of Governors: Welf Heick, Waterloo and Ottawa

Mr. David Buehlow who has been serving as Treasurer, remains in that office.

President-elect Henry Gossen sends the following message to the Alumni members:

"The problems confronting the executive now are . . . to plan ahead, to co-operate with all due authorities in order to establish a name for our "alma mater" of which we can be proud . . . to help in the building of a small college will give much pleasure and satisfaction. The limitation in size is in no way indicative of limitation in purpose or achievement.

"There are various ways in which we, the alumni association can participate in this building program. Most of us who come into contact with people and organizations know the importance of harmonious public relations. It is an established fact that in our social structure the public opinion is the greater coercive factor. In this field we can make the greatest contribution to the college. Through our verbal support of the college we can strengthen its public appeal and insure larger enrolment.

"The college will expand. The student union building fund-supported by every student with a $10 annual contribution while in attendance at the college — has nearly reached the $10,000 mark. In the not too distant future the alumni will be called up on to discuss plans for this new building of our college. This represents progress. Also in the not too distant future the senate for the Waterloo University College will be appointed. The administration suggests strong alumni representation on the senate to afford us an opportunity to be informed of the standards of our college and to offer our suggestions with regard to educational standards and requirements.

"All these developments are worth the support of every alumni association member. There is much to be done. Let us do it wholeheartedly!

Sincerely,
(signed) Henry D. Gossen,
President, Alumni Association.

P.S. We hope to see everyone of you at our annual alumni home-coming week-end in the fall."
